PRESIDENT LEEDS'S VISIT IMPORTANT.

Developments in the Rock Island System's Affairs at St. Louis Are Expected.

ROAD'S TRADEMARK CHANGED.

Rock Island's Name Chauged.

The "Rock Island System" is hereafter to replace the "Great Rock Island Route" as the official trade mark for the aggr gation of corporations which the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company now dominates and includes.

With the evolution of this system the name has changed three times. A generation ago the Rock Island was but a poor line of 180 miles in a single State. It has how grown into a system of almost 7,000 miles, and 10,000 miles will soon be reached. That first single track has multiplied into almost immunerable lines gretching out into a dozen or more States and Territorich.

First it was the Chicago and Rock Island First R was the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad Company, chartered in 1851, whose single track of 185 miles reached the Mississippi in July, 1851, connecting a little city on Lake Michigan with a little village on the Mississippi. In 1865 the Mississippi was bridged and the Mississippi and Missouri Reliroad Company's line built. The two roads were consolidated in 15-9, as the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, and in that year Council Bluffs was reached.

Chicago.

One hundred and eighty miles in 1854 renched 4,500 miles by 1902, and since then almost 2,700 miles have been added. The aggregation foots as follows: Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, east of the Missouri, 1,507 miles; recent additions—Choctaw. Oktahoma and Gulf, 1,155 miles; Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern, 1,257 miles; Rock Island and Peorla, 185 miles; St. Louis, Kansas City and Colorado, 195 miles; Total, 6,519 miles. Completion of the Colorado and the Gulf lines will add to these figures.

There is a noted tendency of Central State raliroads to extend through the Mississippi Valley to Southern ports.

The North-South route is liked so well and appears so promising that the millers of the North and the West have decided to experiment in that direction in shipping flour to Europe.

One big shipment has been announced. It is believed that other milling firms will follow, it this first diversion of shipment is successful. If the experiment is satisfactory, a large amount of business which has heretofore found its way to Europe via the lake and rail routes to the North Atlantic scaboard will be diverted to the South lines for shipment via the Gulf for Europe.

The Rock Island, the Goulds, the Illinois Central, the Mobile and Ohio, the Katy, the Frisco and all the lines reaching the Gulf or building in that direction will make strenuous efforts to carry the flour of the North and West to the Gulf. The plans of the railroads seem to indicate that railroad managers have no doubt of the result of Gulf-route experiments, and in the near future it is very likely that rates will be the only inducement to ship across the Conti-

Mr. Stith reports that Mr. Warner is rapidly regaining strength and that his condition promises in a short time to reach that vigorous state of health for which Mr. Warner had long been envied by other railroad officials, who found it impossible to keep pace with him in his aggressive manner of railroading.
